

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH

Level up your career and be part of a community of emerging municipal leaders!

Are you ready to level up in 2024? So are we!

We're excited to announce our partnership with Dr. Santor Nishizaki, former city manager and CEO of the Mulholland Consulting Group, to create our first-ever NextGen Soft Skills Certificate Program!

Program Overview

This ten-week program is an entirely online cohort model and will start in February 2024. This program will cover skills to help prepare you for municipal leadership roles, such as:

- business writing
- personal productivity
- leadership
- public speaking
- and more

Once you complete each week's course, you'll get a digital badge from Credly that you can add to your LinkedIn and resume.

In addition, we will host one-hour live sessions every other week to help build community and learn from local municipal leaders as guest speakers, such as PJ Gagajena (Moorpark), Craddock Stropes (Carlsbad), Jonathan Royas (Santa Paula), Brenda Rodriguez (Cudahy), and more. (Speakers are subject to change based on availability.)

Limited Spots Available

Lastly, we are already at 50% capacity for the first cohort, so reserve your spot now by clicking on this link or sending an email to: softskills@mulhollandcg.com.
